MOST[®]

Welcome

Welcome to the 2018 ABC Young Performers Awards. This year's competition has continued the tradition of discovering instrumentalists who will shape Australia's musical destiny. Your support and the generosity of our sponsors, prize givers and adjudicators has laid the foundation for us to introduce the three finalists who you will hear tonight. I am sure you will join me in wishing them the best for their performances and a wonderful future career.

Artists

Oliver Shermacher
NSW (22)

Oliver Shermacher completed his Bachelor of Music at the Sydney Conservatorium in 2017 studying under Francesco Celata, having also studied under Kilian Herold at the Freiburg Hochschule für Musik in Germany. Oliver plays regularly with the Sydney Symphony Orchestra and has played in concert halls around Europe including the Concertgebouw as principal clarinet of the Australian Youth Orchestra since 2015. He placed 2nd in the Gisborne International Music Competition in 2017, won the Sydney Conservatorium Clarinet Concerto Competition and was recipient of the Sydney Conservatorium Association Clarinet Award. Oliver regularly composes and arranges, plays chalumeau and period clarinet, and has hosted and produced radio shows for FinemusicFM and the University of Sydney Radio. Since 2016, Oliver has been the Co-Founder and Producer of the social media page: "The Clari Boys" which produces light hearted and entertaining videos and media about classical music.

Kevin Chow
Vic (21)

Kevin Chow began piano studies at age five. He has just completed his Bachelor of Music (Hons) degree at the Melbourne Conservatorium of Music in Australia where he studied piano with Glenn Riddle. Prizes in Australia include the Hephzibah Menuhin Memorial Award, 3 MBS Young Performer of the Year, John Allison Scholarship, and MCM Concerto Prize. Internationally Kevin has been a finalist in the Thailand International Piano Competition and semi-finalist in both the Virginia Waring and Suzhou Jinji Lake International Piano Competitions. Kevin has given recitals in the USA, China, Hong Kong, Thailand, New Zealand and Indonesia, and performed for HRH Prince Charles and the Duchess of Cornwall. He has performed concertos by Beethoven, Liszt, Brahms, Tchaikovsky, Rachmaninoff and Prokofiev with orchestras that include the Thailand Philharmonic, Fremantle Symphony, Zelman Symphony, Frankston Symphony, Preston Symphony, Maroondah Symphony and Melbourne Conservatorium of Music Symphony Orchestras.

Emily Sun
NSW (26)

Emily Sun was the Strings winner and winner of the Nelly Apt Scholarship in the 2011 YPA and prizewinner in numerous international violin competitions such as the Royal-Overseas-League Gold Medal (UK), Yampolsky (Russia), Brahms (Austria) and Lipizer (Italy). Emily has appeared as soloist with Sydney, Melbourne, Canberra, Tasmania and Queensland Symphony Orchestras, and is a regular guest soloist with orchestras in USA, Europe and Asia. Emily is a BBC Introducing Artist, and in 2019 will be premiering Tan Dun's new violin concerto across China. She performed Bach's Double Violin Concerto with Maxim Vengerov at the 2017 Royal Gala hosted by HRH Prince of Wales in Buckingham Palace. Emily studied at the Sydney Conservatorium with Dr Robin Wilson and is currently at the Royal College of Music, studying with Itzhak Rashkovsky. She is also Artist-in-Residence at Chapelle Musicale Reine Elisabeth, mentored by Augustin Dumay. She was supported by the AMF Nora Goodridge award. Emily plays a 1947 A.E. Smith violin, made in Sydney.
